

Conagra Brands, Inc. Animal Welfare Position Statement

Eggs Standards

Conagra Brands, Inc. ("Conagra") is committed to providing safe, affordable, and sustainable food in addition to reliable humane treatment of animals. We are committed to working with our suppliers to ensure that eggs¹ are from farms that adhere to our cage-free animal welfare standards, specifically that egg-laying hens:

- Ability to roam vertically and horizontally in indoor houses,
- Have access to fresh food and water,
- Are allowed to exhibit natural behaviors, including enrichments (scratch areas, perches, and nests), access to litter, protection from predators, and ability to move in a barn in a manner promoting welfare.

Additionally, we are pursuing a dual strategy by exploring egg alternatives and enhanced new technologies to reduce or eliminate eggs from some of our products through recipe reformulation. With our dual strategy, progress against our 100% cage-free goal will be reported for our products that are not part of our reformulation efforts.

We strive to work with suppliers who share our commitment to animal welfare, who are willing to undergo regular evaluations to ensure compliance with our standards, and who are ensuring food safety, product quality, and regulatory compliance. We will only accept shell, liquid, and dry/powdered eggs directly purchased for our facilities and our brands from animals raised under the standards of the United Egg Producers Animal Husbandry Guidelines in addition to the 2024 Cage Free Housing Animal Welfare Guidelines and/or equivalent standards.

Last Updated: March 2024

¹ Our efforts are focused on shell, processed/liquid and powdered eggs that are directly sourced, meaning purchased by us for use as an ingredient for products manufactured in our facilities, excluding private label and foodservice products.